Learning the lessons of loss –
think ORIS Shrinkschool™

An education in everyday economics

With more than £4 billion worth of loss each year, how many retailers are learning those lessons in loss?

We provide a shrinkage training programme that can affect culture change throughout any retail business. Uniquely tailored to meet the specific requirements of each organisation, shrinkage reduction is both achievable and measurable.

About ORIS:

We pride ourselves in forming lasting relationships with our customers and work collaboratively to create cost-effective shrink management solutions. Our product mix includes strategic consulting, training and the provision of proactive and intuitive loss prevention applications. We offer a 'can-do' approach to loss prevention and our methodology has made us the UK's leading retail loss prevention specialist.

All of our shrink solutions have three common aims:

1. Add value
2. Pay back
3. Reduce your shrinkage

Our clientele speaks for itself...

Client case studies and ROI models available on request.
